Summary

Mr. Han-Sik Hwang is a Managing Partner of S&L Partners. He started his legal career with an appointment on September 1, 1986 as a Suwon District Court judge. He served as a Presiding Judge of district courts, Presiding Judge of appellate courts, including the Seoul High Court, Deputy Chief Judge of the Seoul High Court, and Chief Judge of the Gwangju District Court, the Seoul Eastern District Court, and the Busan High Court. After serving as a judge for 37 years and 5 months, he retired on January 31, 2024.

While serving as a research examiner for the Court Library, he was involved in the development of the legal search system for Supreme Court cases, reference literature, and statutes. Such legal search system has become today's Law and Information System.

Furthermore, as the first presiding judge in charge of warrants at the Seoul District Court, he contributed to the establishment of the warrant investigation system.

He studied intellectual property at Georgetown University Law School in the United States and earned an LL.M. degree.

Through his interest in intellectual property matters at various levels of courts, he has been recognized as an expert in the field of intellectual property law and has been appointed as a presiding judge of the Patent Court and the Intellectual Property Division of the Seoul High Court.

"He handled the Hello Kitty case, which recognized for the first time that "intellectual property infringement can be subject to general civil tort liability." He also heard a copyright infringement case brought by the Korean Music Copyright Association against Starbucks Coffee Korea. In the case, he overruled the decision of the court of first instance and decided that Starbucks Coffee Korea could not play music registered by the Association.

He also built his expertise in criminal matters, while serving two terms as a Presiding Judge of a criminal division of the Seoul High Court.

He submitted an unconstitutional law review to the Constitutional Court regarding Article 216(1) of the Criminal Procedure Act, which resulted in a unanimous ruling of unconstitutionality by all judges, and handled a case of sexual harassment of a medical student of Korea University and recognized the driver as a co-conspirator in a case of sexual assault by a backseat passenger. He also acquitted a Korean Japanese student in a retrial of the espionage case.
